

89-Year-Old Sculptress Presents Memento To Radcliffe

Boston Globe (1960-); Jun 10, 1966; ProQuest Historical Newspapers: The Boston Globe
pg. 21

89-Year-Old Sculptress Presents Memento To Radcliffe

META WARRICK FULLER, seated at the right, presents her sculpture of Poetess Maud Cluny Hare to Radcliffe. The work was presented to honor the civil rights work of Eleanor Whitney Morse, Class of '22, of Lincoln, second right. On the left is Carl Gilbert, chairman of the Radcliffe trustees and in the second row, from the left, are Mrs. Kirby-Miller, dean of graduate students, and Miss Ruth Porritt, Radcliffe librarian.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.