

CHARTER OF INCORPORATION OF THE SANDERSVILLE MERCANTILE COMPANY OF SANDERSVILLE, MISSISSIPPI.

Sec. 1. Be it known that T. B. Bonner, J. E. Parker and John Watts, and such other persons as may hereafter become associated with them, their assigns or successors, are hereby created a body corporate under the name and style of "The Sandersville Mercantile Company, of Sandersville, Mississippi," and by that name may sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, plead and be impeached, and may make and use a corporate seal and break and alter the same at pleasure.

Sec. 2. The purposes and objects of said corporation and the business to be transacted, shall be to buy and sell and trade any article of goods, wares and merchandise of whatever kind and description, and to manufacture crude rosin into turpentine, and said corporation may manufacture any and all such goods, wares and merchandise and any other such article or thing, as to it may seem expedient and profitable, and it may purchase, hold, sell, and convey all such goods, wares and merchandise, and all such store houses, real estate and personal property as may be necessary to enable it to carry on its business, and it may purchase, hold, sell and convey any and all real estate and other property of whatever kind or description which may be taken in payment of debts due and owing to it, and it may erect, maintain, keep, use and operate all such store buildings and other buildings, machinery, fixtures and appliances necessary in the manufacture and handling or disposition of any of the turpentine, goods, wares and merchandise so handled or manufactured by it. It may purchase any and all kinds of material needful for its manufacture and it may sell and dispose of its property at pleasure. May borrow money and secure the payment of the same by mortgage or otherwise, and may issue bonds and secure them in the same way; and in addition to the powers herein granted said corporation, shall have all of the powers, privileges and immunities under Chapter 25 of the Code of 1892. Said corporation shall have existence for fifty (50) years from and after the date of its approval by the Governor.

Sec. 3. The Capital stock of said corporation shall be Twenty Thousand Dollars, and may be increased to Fifty Thousand Dollars at the election of the stockholders of said Company, to be divided into shares of One Hundred Dollars each for which proper certificates may issue, and said stock shall be paid for either in money or property at the pleasure of said Company. Said Company may begin business when Twenty Thousand Dollars of its capital stock shall have been subscribed and paid in.

Sec. 4. The government and management of the affairs of said company shall be vested in a Board of Directors composed of three persons to be elected annually from the stockholders thereof. Said Company shall have the power to elect and appoint such officers, agents and employees and prescribe their duties, salaries, tenure of office as may be deemed necessary for the transaction of its business, and it shall have the power to make all such by-laws, rules and regulations as may be necessary for the government of its business, property and effects. It may fix the date for the election of said Directors, officers agents and employees, and it may require bonds in such sum as may be fixed for the faithful performance of the duties of its officers, agents and employees. It may determine the manner, terms and conditions of issuing its stock and shall have the power to enact all such by-laws, rules and regulations that shall be necessary for the efficient and convenient transaction of its business. Each stockholder shall be individually liable for the debts of said corporation contracted during his ownership of stock only for the amount or balance that may remain due and unpaid for the stock subscribed for by him and no further.

Sec. 5. The domicile or place of business of said company shall be in the town of Sandersville, Jones County, Mississippi, but said corporation may establish branch stores and do business at any town or city in the State of Mississippi.

Sec. 6. This charter shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the Governor.

Humility is good enough for an undershirt, but it is a great mistake to use it for an overcoat.

According to the London Times there are in the world one hundred and twenty-five million people who speak the English language—nearly twice as many as speak any other modern language.

EDITORIAL AND OTHERWISE.

The time to advertise is all the time—that is hard, sound sense.

Insurance risks on cotton gins are not considered gilt-edge business just now.

He who has never been tempted has little right to boast of his honor or his honesty.

The Ohio campaign is being made just as exciting as though the result was in doubt.

Ex-Senator Platt, of New York, seems to have been "out of politics" only in the newspapers.

What percentage of the people is after all represented by bankers and board of trade men?

A good editor is known not so much by what he puts in his paper as by what he leaves out.

There is a manifest weakness in the United States Senate's physical endurance department.

After his pulling Van Allen through the Senate no one can doubt the strength of ex-Secretary Whitney's "pull."

Senator Voorhees got fired out on his all night session business. The silver Senators secured a victory on that point.

If that Jersey idea of "organizing the Christian vote" should become popular some politicians might find themselves hunting for a job.

Secretary Morton seems to have a good idea of what is the first duty of a member of the cabinet. To judge by recent events in Nebraska politics.

It is a case of "the kettle calling the pot black" for either political party in New York to refer to the late State conventions as boss-ridden affairs.

There is a disposition in some quarters to mistake "bull-headedness" for statesmanship. This will apply to the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act.

October is the month of hunters, and in the neighborhood of our cities many things are strolling around in hunter's outfits that it would be difficult to properly classify.

A compromise would be far more preferable than the effort to "gag" the healthy minority in the United States Senate. Compromise is honorable in all things that effect the general good.

The United States Senate will have to take a new departure on rules before they can force a vote on any question where there is a healthy minority. This was evidenced by the recent struggle on the repeal bill.

The Choctaw Indians should now be considered thoroughly civilized, their Treasurer having "skipped" leaving a shortage of something like $100,000. Considering the amount he had to handle no Chicago or New York man could have made a heavier haul.

The politicians view of the Van Allen nomination was eminently practical. They said in effect to the Senate: "You turn this man down and no more big campaign contributions we'll get. See?" The Senators saw, and Ambassador Van Allen makes his entre upon the stage of diplomacy.

If compromise is such a very undesirable thing as some people are now trying to make it appear to be in connection with silver legislation, how about the United States Constitution? That and every amendment added thereto represents a compromise between conflicting interests.

Cleveland has at last condescended to give out through a private conversation the information that he is not a monometalist, and that he is in favor of the use of silver with proper restrictions to guarantee its parity. Perhaps the next time the Democrats elect a president he will be pretty well understood before he is nominated.—Beeville (Tex.) Bee.

It strikes the average reader a rather strange that considering the vast amount of misery and crime in this country it should be deemed necessary to send missionaries abroad to convert the heathen; Surely this is the kind of charity which begins at home.

No man is fit to vote who cannot read and understand what he reads. The reason why political life is so full of rottenness is because the "boss" politicians manipulate the ignorant herd of voters. In these days of free public schools and cheap literature ignorance is a crime.

In the Senate on Thursday Mr. Dolph asked Mr. Peffer how the poor were to be benefited by the issue of money at 2 per cent by the government if they had no land or other property to give as security. Immediately Mr. Stewart arose and expressed a desire to answer the question. "No, no," said Mr. Peffer, with a deprecating move of the hand, "you have not been a Populist long enough to be an authority." Amid the laughter caused by the reply Mr. Stewart retired.—Times Democrat.

If you differ from your friend about a public question, you should not fall out with him and declare him a fool. For in so doing you may thereby publish to the world yourself as being that which you untruthfully say of him.—Enterprise.

A truthful saying, and worthy of all acceptance.

A Georgia farmer gives his reasons for the cause of the hard times, which is about right. Hear him. "There is so much being said in the country about hard times and the scarcity of money, and as everybody has a cause and knows a remedy, I thought I would write to tell our readers what I think is the cause. The trouble is we buy more than we produce. There is too much flour and bacon shipped here every year. The things we ought to make at home we are buying.

We let our timber rot and buy our plow stocks, singletrees, ax handles, hoe handles and fencings. We throw away our ashes and buy soap and axle grease. We give away our beef hides and buy home strings and shoe strings. We let our manure go to waste and buy guano. We buy garden seed in the spring and cabbage in the winter. We let our lands grow up in weeds and buy our brooms. We let the wax out of our pine and gum trees go to waste and buy chewing gum for our children. We build school houses and hire teachers and send our children off to be educated. We land a five-cent fish with a $4 fishing rod. We send a fifteen-cent boy out with a $20 gun and a $4 dog to kill birds. We raise dogs and buy wool. And about the only thing in this country that there is an overproduction of is politics and dogma."
